glory in true belle époque flair. The designers transformed the estate to its former grandeur and style, filling the once empty spaces with magnificent antiques, art, accessories and furnishings.

Certainly, Greystone is reminiscent of a fine European estate, radiating a graceful, Old World aesthetic (think tasseled curtains and heavy furnishings). Yet, what is noteworthy about the remarkable designers that reinvented these rooms is how they managed to convey a modern, refreshing, of-the-moment approach. Each room works beautifully against the backdrop of
